LOVING CUP FOR THE BESL APPLES EXHIBITED

The Sonoma County Exposition Commission is announcing thro' the press of the county the offer of a loving cup for the best box of Gravenstein Apples commercially packed and placed on exhibition in the Sonoma County display section in the California Building.

The apples must be delivered to the Sonoma County Display, California Building, P. P. I. E., San Francisco, not later than August 9th.

The judging will be August 10th - Sonoma County Gravenstein Apple Day.

The purpose of this competition is to show the importance of the Gravenstein Apple to the visitors at the Fair. The Sonoma County Gravenstein Apple Day will be the first deciduous fruit day at the Fair.

Now, then, Sonoma Valley growers, give this proposition your very earnest and immediate consideration, for i rests solely with you, we believe, to bring into greater prominence this wonderful, Nature-endowed section and further advertise its resources and infinite possibilities.

Think how proud we'd be, we people of Sonoma, were that prize loving cup to be given us because of the superiority of our home product? There is no reason why it should not be. The Gravenstein apples grown in the Sonoma Valley are equal to the finest product of the State famed Gold Ridge district, and they certainly do raise some wonderful Gravensteins over in that country.

We do not make this boast for Sonoma Valley Gravensteins without knowing whereof we speak. Our authority for this sweeping assertion is on of the best posted of California fruit men, John Von Husen, of Von Husen & Company, leading commission dealers of San Francisco, Los Angeles and other prominent distributing points.

Every fruit-grower in this district knows John Von Husen well, places implicit confidence in his word and reliance upon the soundness of his judgment. For many years, Mr. Von Husen has been the heaviest buyer of fruit in this valley. He also buys extensively for his firm elsewhere, traversing many times each season the fruit producing sections of the State.

Therefore, when a critic of his competency expressed the opinion that Sonoma-grown Gravensteins were second to none, we pinned our faith to his judgment, and now that an opportunity presents itself to put to the test the standard of our product as compared with that grown in other parts of the county we sincerely hope it will be taken advantage of, and the superiority attributed to Sonoma Valley Gravensteins by John Von Husen become advertised broadcast.

PANEL FOR THE BEAR FLAG MONUMENT COMPLETED

Secretary Wm. Von Hacht, of the Native Sons' Committee, in communication with L. Jerome, this week, was informed that the panel, which is to further embellish the Bear Flag Monument and for which an order was placed with Mr. Jerome some months ago, has been completed.

The panel is another evidence of the artistic skill of Sculptor Jonn McQuarry. It bears the American and the Bear Flags, surmounted by a representation of a bear. It is said to be a triumph of art.

While arrangements have yet to be made for the placing of the panel in position, it will probably be an August event, and quite properly be made an impressive ceremonial and festal occasion.

Secretary Von Hacht informs us that the Native Sons will at once become active in putting in the cement walk and planting the lawn around the Monument, and otherwise beautifying the Native Sons' section of the plaza.

FINE BEEVES FOR THE LEWIS MARKET

Sonoma's enterprising butcher, S. B. Lewis, recently purchased from Jos. Felder thirty-eight head of fine steer, and next week Mr. Lewis expects to commence the slaughter of the beeves for the consumption of the many Sonoma Valley residents who are patrons of the Lewis meat market. There will be some rare, juicy steaks to be had at this market for some time to come. But, then, this fact is always true of the Lewis market, for which is purchased only grain-fattened cattle, that produce the very best meat obtainable. A thorough, intelligent knowledge of meats and their careful handling have been largely instrumental in marking the Lewis market one of the substantial business fixtures of the Sonoma Valley.

HELD TO ANSWER

The examination of Carl Schillinger, charged with uttering a fictitious check upon Mrs. Anna Aquistopace, of Caliente, in June, was conducted before Judge J. L. Small, Tuesday, who held the accused to answer before the Superior Court for his crime. The defendant was represented by Attorney Frank Sprague, and Deputy District Attorney Jack Ford appeared for the people. The worthless check called for $52. Schillinger was apprehended at Stockton by Deputy Sheriff Jack Murray last Saturday.

County Officials Give Interesting Figures---Assessment Gain---Cost of Running Schools

It cost almost half a million dollars to run the public schools of Sonoma county for the fiscal year 1914-15, according to the annual report of County Superinindent Miss Florence M. Barns, which she has completed after several weeks of hard work, assisted by Deputy Superintendent Ben F. Ballard.

The total expenditures by the various grammar and high school districts aggregated $419,660.44, of which $299,729.21 was for grammar school work and $119,931.22 for high schools. The amount expended in grammar school work was $18,644.81 in excess of the previous year, when the total was only $281,084.40.

The report is a most comprehensive one and shows in detail many facts concerning the school work of Sonoma county. There are 147 grammar and ten high schools, in the county. The grammar schools employ 28 male and 252 female teachers this year as compared to 26 men and 248 women last year. The men were paid $26,023.50 as compared to $22,011.25 last year, and increased average from $847.44 to $929.41.

The women were paid $196,047.77 this year as compared to $170,223 50 the previous year, an increase of an average from $686.39 to 777.96.

The county superintendent made a total of 266 visits during the year as compared to 267 last year, while trustees of the 147 schools only made a total of 540 visits as compared to 575 last year, there being three trustees to the district.

The total number of volumes in the various school libraries is 154,817 as compared to 145,069 a year ago.

The daily average attendance for the year fell from 7,038 a year to 6,965 this year, which will materially affect the State apportionment for the year 1915-16 The number of teachers allowed on daily average attendance under the code is 270.14.

The total enrollment of the various districts aggregates 8,782 as compared to 8780 a year ago. The enrollment by grades is interesting, showing as it does how the proportion of boys changes from the first grade to the eighth grade, The figures follow:

| | Boys | Girls |
|---|---|---|
| First grade | 997 | 818 |
| Second grade | 560 | 527 |
| Third grade | 588 | 545 |
| Fourth grade | 594 | 448 |
| Fifth grade | 584 | 523 |
| Sixth grade | 522 | 410 |
| Seventh grade | 438 | 430 |
| Fighth grade | 398 | 400 |
| Totals | 4681 | 4101 |
| Aggregate | 8732 | |

The financial statement shows that beginning with an aggregate cash balance of $98,027.50 the districts during the year received $182,750.30 from State apportionments; $50,983.74, from county apportionments; $27,292.03 city and district taxes and 24,279.45 from bonds, making the grand total receipts $383,184.42.

Last year the grand aggrigate for last year was $379,111.90.

The expenditures for the past year were as follows: Teachers' salaries $220,696; contingent expenses $47,777.79; sites, buildings and furniture, $27,865 73; libraries, books and apparatus. $3.3896.9 total $299,729.21, leaving a cash balance of $83,495.21. Total expenditures the previous year aggregated $281,084.40.

The value of school lots, school houses and furniture increased during the year from $560,995 to $606,955, while school libraries and apparatus did not increase in value, the aggregate value of public school property increased $610,525 to $656,125. The total bonded indebtedness of the districts was increased during the year from $187,653. to $198,763.

SOME HIGH SCHOOL FIGURES

The ten high schools, with 15 men and 37 women teachers, a total of 52, had a daily average attendance of 961, while 52 boys and 105 girls, a total of 157 pupils were graduated.

The high school districts opened the year with a cash balance of $27,901.56; received from the State $14,266.11; from the county 79,267.33; bonds $110,845.50; total $232,280.50.

The expenditures included $22,920.92 for teachers' salaries $24,324 contingent expenses; $56,863.31 for sites and buildings; total $119.931.23, leaving a cash balance of $112,349.27, The large excess of cash on hand this year is accounted for in part by bonds sold for the Petaluma high school building and not yet used.

County Assessor J. C. Hoke Smith has completed the recapitulation of the assessed valuation of property in Sonoma County.

The grand total assessment of all property in the County of Sonoma is $37,235,045. This is an increase over the assessment of ast year of $263,735. This does not include the operative property owned by corporations which is assessed for State government support.

The increase was obtained despite the fact that the assessment of 140,000 "nickolodeon lots," also known as "phony lots," of no cash value, was eliminated, and which, under an opinion of the Attorney-General, were not included in this year's assessment. Neither was these lots published in this year's tax roll for the same reason

Of the grand total assessment of $37,235,045, the valuation inside cities was $11,451,150, and outside cities $25,783,895.

The total amount of personal property assessed was $4,125,795. The amount of real estate other than city and town lots, was $16,950,195. The value of city and town lots was $4,255,710 The improvements outside of cities were assessed at $5 842,205, and the improvement on city and town lots at $5 188,040.

The assessment on money, not including banks, inside cities, was $121,640: outside cities, $35,575

The assessment by cities is as follows: Santa Rosa, $5,223 090; Petaluma, $3,600,960; Healdsburg, $991,695; Sebastopol, $714,740; Sonoma, $511,725; Cloverdale, $348,940.

In a day or two more County Assessor Smith and his efficient corps of deputies, who have been laboring night and day since the first Monday in March, when the assessment commenced, will have all the details complete. The work has been carried out very successfully.—Press Democrat.

ANOTHER FORD SOLD

Sonoma's enterprising grocer, B. Bordsen, purchased a Ford automobile this week, through the local agency of Busby & Coates, and with his family, Mr. Borcsen expect to take lots of pleasure out of their new acquisition. Busby & Coates anticipate other sales very shortly.

BIG FRUIT SHIPMENT OF SONOMA VALLEY PRODUCT

In another column, on this page, we urged Sonoma Valley growers to take advantage of the opportunity offered to exhibit Gravenstein apples at the Exposition, in an effort to win the loving cup offered as a prize for the best box displayed.

We believe Sonoma Valley will win that prize for many reasons. One of the foremost is this:

Through the Welbanks Commission House, San Francisco, for which firm S. A. Griffith, of Vineburg, is the local agent, six carloads of Gravenstein apples, the product of this peerless valley, have been bought up by Mr. Griffith for consignment to Wagner & Son, Buenos Ayres, South America.

Two cars of the apples were sent out last Saturday, and the other four carloads will be shipped next week, commencing Monday. The price paid for the fruit was $1.20 per box for four-tier boxes, and $.85 per box for four and one-half tier boxes f. o. b. Vineburg.

The output represents product from several of the finest orchards in the valley, principally those in the Vineburg district, and include among others the properties of the following named:

Mrs. G. Senkins, J. C. Schofner, T. Lewis, E. Rochet, G. T. Seipp, J. Fernandez, R. A. Vernon (Brubeck Ranch), Mor is Levy E. M. Cutter, K. Griffith, H. Rubke, T. E. Cone, Chas. Cutter, Lowell Brothers, G. Soderberg and the John Wadsworth place.

Heretofore, the apples consigned to Wagner & Son were bought in and around Sebastopol, but this year and for many seasons to come this plum is to fall into the palm of the Sonoma Valley, so we have been informed with pardonable pride by Agent Griffith.

A big thing for the Sonoma Valley? Why, yes, to be sure! But, then, reader, dear, don't lose sight of the fact that we have the goods to deliver: hence, the order.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

Sonoma baseball fans were disappointed last Sunday, when the O. R. E. Ball Club refused to play. The difficulty arose over a misunderstanding regarding expense money, and the fault is no doubt to be attributed to the San Francisco booking agents. However, no disappointment is expected tomorrow, when the local nine will meet on the Sonoma diamond, a fast San Francisco nine.

FINE WORKMANSHIP OF A. W. ADLER IS COMPLIMENTED

Postal Inspector R. W. Madden spent Monday in Sonoma, passing judgment on the new Post Office Building, which was accepted by the Government representative of the postal department without asking any alterations. On the contrary, Inspector Madden expressed himself in the most laudatory manner of the beauty of its architectuae and the superiority of the finishing, equipment, etc., of the building. In expressing his gratification, Inspector Madden especially complimented the master workmanship of A. W. Adler on the equipment, etc, declaring nothing finer had ever come under his observation.

Contractor Ralph Murphy, who had the work of construction of the reinforced concrete outer-walls in hand, also comes in for a generous meed of praise.

Postmaster John D. Wagnon and his assistants are now at home to the public in the substantial and ornamental structure erected solely for the Sonoma Valley postal service of Uncle Sam.

Postmaster Wagnon informs us that a telephone is to be installed in the new office, and by this mode of communication, residents along rural routes will be informed of the arrival at the postoffice of perishable parcel post packages, and instructing those to whom they are consigned to meet rural carriers to receive same.

DEATH OF BABE IS INVESTIGATED

The fact that the death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Childs, although occurring Thursday was not reported to Undertaker Bates until Saturday last, resulted in the investigating inquiry of a coroner's inquest, with Dr. W. B. Hayes as the examining physician.

Facts presented led to the conclusion that the delay in reporting the death of the babe was attributable to ignorance on the part of the youthful parents, aged respectively nineteen and eighteen years

The couple had sent for an aunt after the child's death, and awaited her arrival from San Francisco, apparently not knowing how to proceed.

Dr. Hays pronounced death to have resulted from malnutrition.

The parents have lived practically without any in ercourse with neighbors since moving to El Verano a few weeks ago from the metropolis, although the father lived and attended school there some years ago.

Some "Twenty Years Ago" in Old Sonoma

(FROM THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE OF AUGUST 4, 1895.)

Julius Fochetti, accompanied by Wm. Neu, left last Thursday in a light spring wagon for Petaluma and other towns in this and Napa counties. He will be absent a week or ten days and will combine business with pleasure.

Joe Ryan, the young man who was so severely injured internally two weeks ago by a horse falling upon him, still lies at his mother's home in Benicia in a very critical condition. The surgeons who operated on him, however, have strong hopes of his ultimate recovery.

The weather has been exceesively warm the past week. On Monday and Tuesday afternoons the thermometer registered between 98 and 102 degrees in the shade. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were somewhat cooler, the mercury having come down to between 90 and 95 degrees on those days. The mornings and evenings, however, have been delightfully pleasant.

The Union High School reopened last Monday with an attendance of thirty-five pupils. At the reopening, remarks were made by Trustees Riser, Akers and Cutter. Prof. Weed also delivered a short address to the students which was listened to with marked attention.

On Friday morning of last week a jolly party ot young people left town in a large bus for Graham's Canyon for a day's outing amid the natural beauties of that section of the valley. Through the kindness of Ed Morris, who furnished the bus and horses, some seventeen boys and girls availed themselves of enjoying a drive and picnic that will not soon be forgotten The following made up the party: Miss Mamie Stevenot, chaperone; the Misses E. Appleton, K. Morris, N. Sttvenot, C. Manuel, T. Bates, L. Stevenot, A. Wilson, C. and J. Granice; Masters E. Morris, F. Clewe, L Richmond, W. Clewe, F. Stevenot, H. Appleton, Jr.

CONTRIBUTED NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Vineburg

Fred Batto made his usual business trip to the metropoli last Wednesday.

Charles Swedenborg is erecting a cosy home on his place on the Napa road, near the burg.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bundschu. of Rhine Farm, have returned from the northern counties well pleased with their trip.

Howard Brown visited Napa, Wednesday evening, when he was admitted into the paddock of the antlered herd of Moose.

An unusual number of visitors alighted from the several trains, Sunday last, and were entertained by friends in this vicinity.

Mr and Mrs. A. R. Bird. two of the first settlers on the Hyde Tract, are spending the week in the bay cities, visiting with friends.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Murray, ex-mayor of Vineburg, was exchanging greetings with his many friends in this vicinity one day last week.

Frank Groskopf, a well-known young man of Vineburg, was the guest of his old schoolmate, Robert Fillipino, of Petaluma, several days this week.

The Misses Helen and Florence Forni have returned home after a visit of two weeks in San Francisco. Both young ladies were delighted with their visit.

The Misses Adele Andrieux and Louise Batto returned home on Thursday week, after enjoying a pleasant vacation in the metropolis and vicinity.

Mrs. August Figone and children, Mr and Mrs. F. Smidt and Miss Mary Ghio, all of San Francisco, returned to San Francisco, Saturday afternoon, after being guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Batto.

Happy Bill Helberg, the minstrel man, Jack Wilson of Schellville, and Jim Small of Vineburg, had a heart to heart talk, the other day, and as a result of the confab, we may expect in the near future to see some dark clouds on the horizon. Not rain clouds, but burnt cork clouds with a bright lining.

Some of our Vineburg young men are bound to see at least some parts of the globe, as we learn that Leland Volquardson is at Sitka, Alaska: Harry Brandt is on his way to Bordeaux, France; Harold Carriger is in sunny Florida, and Friend McHarvey is somewhere in the War Zone. Just enjoy yourselves, boys, while you are young, for some day you will wander back again to where the old home stands.

EASY JIM.

El Verano

Roy Chance visited Vallejo, Monday.

Frank P Grace, of Santa Rosa, was in town Monday.

Will Purdy, of San Francisco, visited friends and relatives at their cottage on Grove Street, Sunday.

J. E. Dorward, of Alameda, spent Saturday and Sunday with his family, at their cosy little home in West El Verano.

Thomas Gilligan, of San Francisco, and well-known here as an expert mixologist, visited friends in El Verano Sunday.

L E. Grimm, formerly a resident of this place and now a real estate dealer of Oakland, was a well known visitor here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, of San Francisco, were here Sunday looking over their property, which since its purchase they have improved greatly.

Mr. Linduer, a prominent business man of San Francisco, is here spending several days with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs Wm. Chance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stornetti, of the Napa road, were here Saturday night, inviting friends to enjoy a ride in their fine, new 1916 Overland. Some speed to Charley, now!

It is reported that his excellency, Joe Hayden, mayor-elect of King's Crossing. will soon compose a new song entitled, "In the Valley Where the Moon Shines Over All."

Felicie Rovai, the well-known "ice man" of Sonoma, run out of gas the other day while making his rounds and had quite a hike into town to take on a new supply. If Felicie had put sufficient gas on the ice before starting, he would not have met with this mishap.

Index-Tribune

...UG. 7, 1915 NO. 3

An enjoyed social function of last week's-end was the Five Hundred Party, at which Mrs. Arthur S. Luce entertained about fifty of her lady friends, Friday afternoon. Pink carnations and hydrangeas were effectively used by Mrs Luce for the adornment of the reception rooms. The hostess—a favorite social leader—provided most acceptable favors for the fortunate ladies scoring the winning honors at cards. Mrs. J. A. Landsborough ranked highest, Mrs. Hartley W Gottenberg was a close second, while Mrs. Otto Wagner received the consolation trophy. Among the guests were a number of out-of-town friends of the hostess, including Mesdames Will R gers, Glen Murdock, Martin Vaughn, M. P. Youker and Miss Edna Murdock, who motored over from Santa Rosa.

Another afternoon pleasantly spent at cards was Thursday of this week, when Mrs. G. H. Hotz was hostess to the Bridge Whist Club. Mrs. Arthur Luce—an exceptionally good card player, by-the way—kept Luck at her right hand during the contest, and captured the laurels of the game. The refreshments served by Mrs. Hotz were delicious, and the session was in every respect one of the most pleasurable of the season.

Sunday last, Mrs. Julius Poppe was given much pleasure by receiving a visit from her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle, and their daughter, Miss Mildred, of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle were accompanied to Sonoma by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Goddard, of Portland, Oregon, who are visiting their relatives. This was the first trip made by Mr. and Mrs. Goddard to this part of California, and they believe Sonoma Valley is entitled to all the glowing praise which has made her famed.

Mr and Mrs. Ralph Hotz have returned from a several days' Exposition sight seeing trip, which was enjoyed immensely.

'Twill be refreshing, really, to attend the entertainment to be given at Chauvet Hall, Glen Ellen, tonight. They are a surprisingly clever group of children, who are members of Miss Frances Dougherty's class. This competent young woman is to be credited with arranging a decidedly pleasing and varied program and her splendidly trained class, on all occasions are daintily and effectively costumed. Their songs and dances are executed with artistic finish and grace, too. In connection other numbers will be presented. Dancing follows the rendition of the program. efreshments are to be served, and the genial social intercourse so conducive to pleasure at gatherings of thi nature wil round out to completeness the enjoyment of the event. Many residents of town and valley will attend this entertainment, which is for the benefit of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

A happier assemblage of children could not well be imagined than those gathered in the home of Mr and Mrs. August Clerici, on Second Street East, Tuesday afternon. When the little folk were invited by Mrs. Clerici "to play" with her daughter Zoe, they were not informed that it was to celebrate the ninth birthday anniversary of their dear playmate. Not until the big table, which was spread in the garden, was adorned with the beautiful birthday cake with its nine twinkling candles was the precious secret told. The party, moreover, was a complete surprise to Zoe. The children had a perfectly lovely time—one they'll talk about and think on a long time to come. Those present were: Mesdames H. Laux, A. Rahwyler and Eckharet; Alice Kehoe, Evelyn Peterson, Mabel Branch, Kathleen Eckharet, Verna Quartaroli, Irma Adler, Countess and Vesta Prestwood, Evelyn Ward, Marguerite McDevitt, Beatrice Heggie, Vera Scott, Ethel Perry, Walter and John Eckharet, Leland Adler, Gilber Pohley, Georgie Read, Norman Heggie, Zoe and Leland Clerici.

Mrs. Carrie . Burlingame had the pleasure on Tuesday of entertaining at her mother's ome, five Philippino gentlemen, who are here in connection with the Expositio . Messrs. Jose Carmus and J. Valleges, both Bachelors of Agriculture, are in charge of the Philippine exhibits in the Palace of Agriculture, while Messrs. C. Raval and Quintero, normal school teachers, are with the exhibits in the Palace of E ucation. Francesco Morals is secretary to the Philippino Commission to the Fair. All enjoyed to the utmost a bird's eye view of our Valley of the Moon as glimpsed from a swiftly-moving automobile, and also the novelty of seeing, for the first time, peaches, apples, pears and plums growing on trees, as these fruits are not produced in the Philippines. All of these gentlemen peak perfect English, the result of Uncle Sam's work in the Philippine Islands and are devoted to the United States and its policies.

An event of interest to her circle of friends in this valley, was the marriage of Miss Florence Aubrey to Daniel F. Hurst. The nuptials were celebrated in St. Brigid's Church, Wednesday, July 14th, Rev. J. J. Harrington officiating. The bride, a girl of charm of personality and character, was gowned beautifully in white. She wore a white picture hat. The maid of honor, Miss Harriet Hurst—sister to the groom—was costumed in pink, and both the lovely bride and her fair attendant carried shower bouquets of pink and white rosebuds. Roy Aubrey, the bride's brother, officiated as best man. A sumptuous breakfast, served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thos. Monahan, followed the ceremony, and later the newly-wedded twain departed on a honeymoon trip at Del Monte. Mr. and Mrs. Hurst are now at home to their friends in the handsome residence on the corner of 20th Avenue and Geary Street, which the groom—a leading wholesale grain merchant—had constructed for the reception of his bride.

Mrs. Robert Hall and Mrs. Pauline McMullin enjoyed the Exposition to the fullest over the week-end The ladies were guests at Inside Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S Luce entertained during the week, Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, and Mrs. Thomas Traweek and daughters, the Misses Kathleen and Margaret Traweek, of Los Angeles.

Miss Bernice Hocker, a former popular Sonoma girl, but for some time a resident of Petaluma, has been engaged to take charge of a private school, lately established at Bloomfield. The young school teacher was recently graduated from the San Francisco Normal School.

Master Robert Poppe is quite the most interesting little personage imaginable since his return Wednesday evening, from a visit with his sister, Mrs. Frank Krueger, in San Francisco. His voluble enthusiasm over the World's Fair is certainly infectious. Mrs. Krueger is to arrive from the Bay City this morning, and this afternoon will accompany her mother, Mrs. Julius Poppe, and Master Robbie, to their country home, "Bleitz Castle," above Glen Ellen, where they join Mr. Poppe for an outing trip of a fortnight.

Mrs. S. Sebastiani and children are expected home tomorrow from their week's sojourn in San Francisco. Friends of the family are pleased to note that little Sebenia, the ten-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastiani, who received a severely bruised knee, last week, by being thrown from her pony, has quite recovered from the accident. It must not be understood, however, that Sebenia's po y was at fault. The diminu ive animal is trained to stand on his hind feet, and while exhibiting his skill, with his proud little mistress mounted, he lost his balance and fell backward, unseating the girlish rider.

Another former resident of this city to greet girlhood friends within the week was Miss Anna Joost, who some ten years ago lived with her parents in Sonoma. Miss Joost, who was the guest of the Misses Nellie and Clara Peterson during her stay here, returned to her home in San Francisco Wednesday afternoon.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Monahan are glad to learn that they are to become permanent residents instead of paying occasional visits here, on the completion of their cosy, five-room bungalow, on their property on First Street West. Johnston Brothers, of Oakland, contractors, have completed the foundation of the new home and within six weeks it is expected to be ready for occupancy. Mr. and Mrs. Monahan have been living in San Francisco, where they have property interests.

JAMES MAFFEI TO JOIN THE ARMY OF BENEDICTS AUGUST 8TH

Tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon, Sonoma's prominent young business man, James Maffei, of the well-known firm of Nichelini & Maffei, will lead to the altar Miss Zelda Devincenzi, of San Francisco.

The nuptials will be celebrated at one o'clock in the handsome new church of St. Peter and St. Paul. The attractive bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Mary Devincenzi, as maid of honor, and Olivo Maffei will assist the groom as best man. Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding feast will be served.

The newly-wedded twain will return to Sonoma early next week, the press of business requiring the attention of Mr. Maffei rendering it necessary to postpone the bridal trip until September.

The coming benedict has elegantly furnished one of the Mosso bungalows, on the Sonoma Grove Tract, for the reception of his fair bride.

Hansen's famous rag-time orchestra has been augmented this week by two additional soloist musicians, who have recently completed cabaret engagements in San Francisco. The new Agua Caliente Springs' Auditorium now boasts one of the finest dansant orchestras in the county, and Director Fred Hansen is to be congratulated on securing a coterie of such talented musicians. Their combined efforts certainly result in "swell elegant" harmony.

Some "Twenty Years Ago" in Old Sonoma

(FROM THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE OF AUGUST 4, 1895.)

Julius Fochetti, accompanied by Wm. Neu, left last Thursday in a light spring wagon for Petaluma and other towns in this and Napa counties. He will be absent a week or ten days and will combine business with pleasure.

Joe Ryan, the young man who was so severely injured internally two weeks ago by a horse falling upon him, still lies at his mother's home in Benicia in a very critical condition. The surgeons who operated on him, however, have strong hopes of his ultimate recovery.

The weather has been exceedingly warm the past week. On Monday and Tuesday afternoons the thermometer registered between 98 and 102 degrees in the shade.

The Union High School reopened last Monday with an attendance of thirty-five pupils. At the reopening, remarks were made by Trustees Riser, Akers and Cutter. Prof. Weed also delivered a short address to the students which was listened to with attention.

but was given a thorough washing. When this method of cleansing is employed, the eggs after the washing, are immediately placed on trays or a table or other flat surface to drain. This causes all other parts to dry more quickly then the point of contact with the tray or table, and it is at this point that it "spots" and where deterioration begins, either in or out of storage. This spot is simply a spawn of mold just inside on the shell, at first about the size of a pin head, but which grows until within two or three months it becomes what is known as a black rot.

The result is the same with either a fertile or an infertile egg. The entire inside of the shell becomes black and the contents are also partly or entirely colored, while the odor is indescribable.

This rot differs from that caused by washing in sour milk. It seems that each variety of bad eggs has a little way of rotting all its own. Another peculiarity: while the sour-milk washed egg spoils more rapidly in storage, this water-washed egg goes bad quicker when not stored. When either washed or wiped, this egg is inferior for frying or poaching even when only two weeks old.

The illustration—Figure 7—does not show the porous state of the shell; it seems impossible, in simple black and white, to picture all of the peculiarities of these eggs. However, in real life—or death—every pore in the shell of this water-washed egg seems magnified and is readily distinguished.

Had this egg been simply wiped with a damp cloth, it would not spot as it does when washed, but would, at the same age, two weeks, show the same evaporation. This shrinkage would increase rapidly until in about four months the contents would occupy only half of the shell, and while not rotten, it would be of little value.

Another inferior egg (the illustration of which was, unfortunately too badly injured for publication) is one that is beginning to mold. In the course of time the mold grows until it completely destroys the egg. Much cold storage loss is due to this defect. Mold is usually caused by a wet nest, but it may be the result of shipping in a case containing wet fillers and at times the packer fails to thoroughly dry his cases and fillers before storing. On the other hand, splendid eggs perfectly packed may, become moldy through improper warehousing. Perhaps the plant is not perfect, or, if a well designed and equipped establishment, the damage may be the result of careless operation.

I believe that with improvement in the quality of eggs by the producer, coupled with better methods of storage under the supervision of the State, to insure against transgressions by the careless or unscrupulous, cold storage is the one great economic factor in the whole game of egg-production and distribution. It is the only system it is practical to use that will keep up the price of eggs in the season of greatest production and keep the cost to the consumer within bounds during the fall and winter, thus insuring a more constant use of eggs by the public, and result in a mutual benefit to both producer and consumer.

In the estimation of the average person, the cold storage warehouse man is a very "bad" man. We admit he has many faults and that he should be reformed. This reformation, however, can only be accomplished through some practical and far-reaching method, because under present conditions he cannot, as a rule, be "good" and continue in business. It should be remembered that there is keen competition in this line of warehousing and that the lowest rate and not superior service influences nearly all those who put goods in cold storage. There is at present little praise and probably no profit for the careful and conscientious operator, and as a further discouragement he is constantly "stung" for losses and censured for damage that is primarily the fault of the producer and handler.

It costs more to store eggs properly because they should always be kept in a chamber used exclusivaly for the purpose. Apples, onions, fish, and many things too numerous to mention, if stored with eggs, will flavor them and often injure them otherwise.

The cases should not be piled up nearly to the ceiling, but there should be several feet of space between eggs and ceiling. Number one eggs are better if stored in an even temperature somewhat above freezing, while weak or inferior grades require a temperature of about thirty-two to prevent rapid falling off in quality.

How Canada Does It

The three countries that stand at the head in efficiency in respect to the proper handling of cold storage goods are in the order of merit, Denmark, New Zealand and Canada; but they are so nearly equal, there is very little in favor of one over the other.

The Canadian Government provides a subsidy, which is given to plants built and equipped with the approval of Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, John A. Ruddick, under whose supervision all cold storage plants of Canada are operated.

In a recent report made to the Minister of Agriculture and intended to supply information for guidance of the Legislature of the Dominion in debating proposed amendments to the present laws, Mr. Ruddick states:

"Suggestions have been made on the grounds of public health, to fix a time limit for certain goods to be held in cold storage. The writer has never been able to see any justification for such a proposal, for the reason that the condition of the goods coming out of cold storage bears very little relation to the length of the storage period. The condition of the goods when placed in storage has more to do with their condition when removed than anything else."

These statements are by a man who has made Canadian cold storage conditions practically the best in the world.

MANY ARRESTS FOR BREAKING GAME LAWS

Two hundred and ten arrests were made at the instance of the State Fish and Game Commission for the period commencing Mar. 1st, 1915, and ending May 26, and $5,945 in fines were collected as a result, according to the fourth monthly report of the commission rendered last week. The greatest number of violations were for fishing and hunting without a license, there being forty-nine of the 210 charged with this particular offense. Twenty-two were arrested for using illegal nets and traps, the State collecting $2870 within this period for these violations.

The report shows that since the first of the current year seventy-six mountain lions have been slained in the various counties of California, as against 204 for all of last year. The expense to the State has been $1,520 at $20 per scalp. The total number of mountains lions killed to date in the State is 3261, of which Humboldt county has furnished 459, with Trinity county second with 229, and Siskiyou third with 224.
